Abbreviated Torrance Test for Adults (ATTA)

Authors: Kathy Goff

E. Paul Torrance

Level: Adult

Working Time: 15 minutes

The ATTA consists of three open-ended activities. In one activity, for example, the respondent is given a “just suppose” prompt and then asked to list problems that might arise.

The ATTA consists of four norm-referenced abilities: fluency, originality, elaboration, flexibility; and fifteen criterion-referenced creativity indicators.

The ATTA:

- Provides substantial insight into adult creativity by quantifying both the figural and verbal creative strengths.
- Provides an initial response to adults who want to determine their creative strengths.
- Can be used to measure changes in the creativity of adults through the use of pre- and posttesting.
- Has a shortened administration time.
- Is easily scored—the manual provides all necessary directions.
- Is in an abbreviated format.
