

E. Paul Torrance,
"The Creativity Man"
an authorized biography

Author: Garnet W. Millar

Dr. E. Paul Torrance dedicated his professional life to creating tests to model and analyze the creative thinking process of students of all cultures and grade levels. This biography takes the reader through the life and times of E. Paul Torrance and highlights his prodigious contributions. His life was a story of excellence in scholarship and a study in persistence and single-minded pursuit of the nature and nurture of creativity. He had the courage to follow his intuition when scientific data was lacking and the road to knowledge was not clearly marked. This book talks about his frustrations and failures along with his successes and triumphs.

Biographer Garnet Millar was a close friend and colleague of Dr. Torrance. This new edition gives insights into the final years of Dr. Torrance's life.
