The following charts allow you to look at three different sub-populations in your testing group, and to compare them to the national average. Note that the option test is not included in the computation of the Battery Composite score. A line has been drawn where your group would match the national average.

The first chart at the right compares your total group median or average performance to the national average.

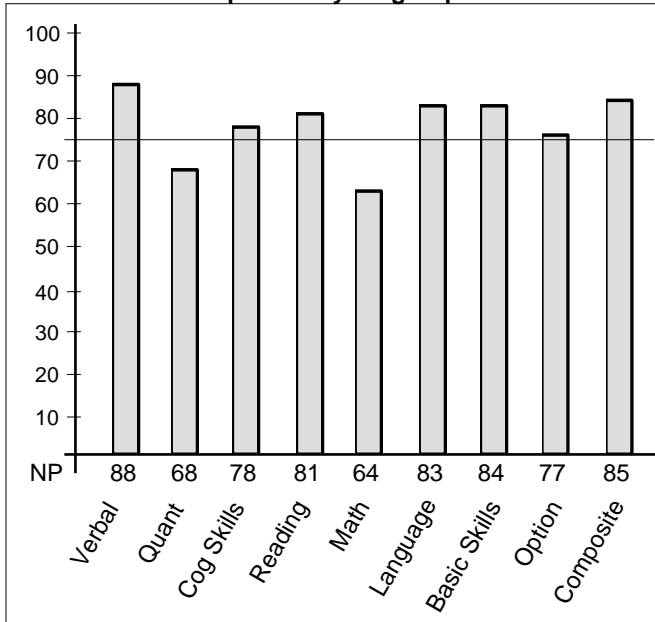

The median or average of your group

The second chart (below left) compares the top 25% of your group to the top 25% of the nation.

The third chart (below right) compares the bottom 25% of your group to the bottom 25% of the nation.
